Description

What does Spring mean to you? Is it the season of new beginnings? This day course, suitable for aspiring or more advanced poets, will begin by exploring exemplars of the season, including Emily Dickinson, Gerard Manley Hopkins and Mary Oliver. After that, we'll start crafting our own poems, inspired by the Spring setting of Minsteracres.

Outline

10am - 12noon	Introduction and the Spring poetry of Dickinson, Hopkins & Oliver
12noon - 1pm	An inspiring Spring stroll at Minsteracres (with notebook)
1pm - 2pm	Lunch
2pm - 4pm	Crafting Spring poems and Conclusion

Suggested Reading

Grounded by Ruth Allen
