

PHILOSOPHY: IN SEARCH OF UTOPIA

[FIVE WEEK COURSE]

Dates

11th, 18th, 25th Jan, 1st and 8th Feb 2023

Wednesdays 7pm until 8.30pm GMT [19:00 until 20:30 UTC]

Venue

On-line / Virtual Event

Fees

Full fee £60.00 | Over 65s £54.00 | Benefit £48.00

Level

Beginners to Intermediate

Description

For two and a half millennia philosophers have written blueprints for the perfect society, yet still it remains elusive. Beginning our search with Plato's Republic, and progressing through to Nozick's Anarchy, State and Utopia, we will try to answer the question: what is the best form of society?

Outline

Week One Introduction and Plato's Republic

Week Two Hobbes' Leviathan

Week Three Rousseau's Social Contract

Week Four Rawls' A Theory of Justice

Week Five Nozick's Anarchy, State and Utopia and Conclusion

Suggested Reading

A Very Short Introduction to Political Philosophy by David Miller

Booking

To book a place on this course, please ring the Bristol Folk House on 0117 926 2987, or go to the following link bristolfolkhouse.co.uk/courses/philosophy-in-search-of-utopia and click on 'Check Availability', then 'Book Now'.