

THE LAZY PHILOSOPHER'S GUIDE TO ETHICS

[DAY COURSE]

Date

Friday 22nd July 2022
10am until 4pm

Venue

Bath Royal Literary & Scientific Institution
16 -18 Queen Square
Bath
Somerset
BA1 2HN

Fee

£48 via Eventbrite [£44 if booked directly with tutor]

Level

Beginners to Intermediate

Description

Formerly philosophy was the preserve of PhDs and the intellectually precocious, until now. In this day course we will disinter a little of philosophy's hermetic meaning as we tackle the question: How should we live? Using lectures and discussion, we will explore the philosophical branch of ethics (moral philosophy), with Immanuel Kant, J. S. Mill and Aristotle.

Outline

10am - 11.10am	Introduction and the Art of Living
11.20am - 11.30am	Break
11.30am - 12.30pm	Utility and J.S. Mill
12.30pm - 1.30pm	Lunch break
1.30pm - 2.40pm	Duty and Immanuel Kant
2.40pm - 2.50pm	Break
2.50pm - 4pm	Character and Aristotle

Suggested Reading

Understand Ethics by Mel Thompson

Booking

To book a place on this course please email darrenharper.esq@gmail.com or book on eventbrite: eventbrite: eventbrite.co.uk/e/the-lazy-philosophers-guide-to-ethics-tickets-313765269367

darrenharper.net