

A CRASH COURSE IN PHILOSOPHY: RELIGION & ART

[HALF-DAY COURSE]

Date

Friday 4th November 2022
10.30pm until 1.30pm

Venue

Morrab Library
Morrab Gardens
Penzance
Cornwall
TR18 4DA

Fee

£22

Level

Beginners to Intermediate

Description

Formerly philosophy was the preserve of PhDs and the intellectually precocious, until now. In this half-day course we will disinter a little of philosophy's hermetic meaning as we re-evaluate religion, including St. Anselm's famous 'Ontological Argument', and then going on to appreciate art (aesthetics) with Clive Bell, R.G. Collingwood and George Dickie.

Outline

10.30pm - 12noon	Religion
12noon - 12.15pm	Break
12.15pm - 1.30pm	Art

Suggested Reading

Philosophy: A Very Short Introduction by Edward Craig

Booking

To book a place on this course please email darrenharper.esq@gmail.com

darrenharper.net