

STOICISM AND THE ART OF LIVING: UNIVERSAL NATURE, GOD AND FATE

[DAY COURSE]

Date

Saturday 16th April 2022
10.30am until 2.45pm

Venue

Dilston Physic Garden
Corbridge
Northumberland
NE45 5QZ

Fee

£34

Level

Beginners to Intermediate

Description

In contrast with the Judeo-Christian view, the Stoics were materialists: they believed that there is just one type of thing that makes up the universe. In this course we will explore the Stoic belief that everything that happens is fated to happen, as well as the Stoic idea that God, fate and the universe are in reality the same thing.

Outline

10.30am - 11.40am	Introduction, God and Matter
11.40am - 11.50am	Break
11.50am - 1pm	Cause and Fate
1pm - 1.30pm	Lunch break
1.30pm - 2.45pm	Live According to Universal Nature

Suggested Reading

Letters from a Stoic by Seneca & Meditations by Marcus Aurelius

Booking

To book a place on this course, please email darrenharper.esq@gmail.com

darrenharper.net