

STOICISM AND THE ART OF LIVING: UNIVERSAL NATURE, GOD AND FATE

[THREE WEEK COURSE]

Dates

23rd, 20th January, 6th February 2023

Mondays 7pm until 8.30pm GMT [19:00 until 20:30 UTC]

Venue

On-line / Zoom

Fee

27 GBP | 31 EUR | 33 USD | 45 CAD

Level

Beginners to Intermediate

Description

In contrast with the Judeo-Christian view, the Stoics were materialists: they believed that there is just one type of thing that makes up the universe. In this course we will explore the Stoic belief that everything that happens is fated to happen, as well as the Stoic idea that God, fate and the universe are in reality the same thing.

Outline

Week One Introduction, God and Matter

Week Two Cause and Fate

Week Three Live According to Universal Nature

Suggested Reading

Letters from a Stoic by Seneca & Meditations by Marcus Aurelius

Booking

To book a place on this course, please email darrenharper.esq@gmail.com

darrenharper.net